

A map of Uganda is shown, with the country's outline and internal regional boundaries. The map is overlaid with a semi-transparent pink color. The Japanese text 'ウガンダ' (Uganda) is written in the center of the map in a bold, black font with a white outline. The text is positioned over the central part of the country. The map also shows some blue areas representing water bodies, such as Lake George and Lake Edward in the west, and Lake Kyoga in the south.
