

A map of Uganda is shown, with the country's territory filled with a light pink color. A network of thin grey lines represents roads or administrative boundaries. A large blue area in the south represents Lake Edward. The Japanese text 'ウガンダ' (Uganda) is written in the center of the map in a bold, black font with a white outline.

ウガンダ